

EXPECTATIONS

Our desire is for this camping experience to be safe and beneficial for everyone involved and for you to have time and space to rest and grow in your walk with Jesus Christ.

We know that you are all adults and we expect your behavior, while attending this camp, to reflect maturity and compassion for each other, the camp staff and facilities, as well as our guests and programming. You will be asked to leave if you are unable to demonstrate this behavior

We've spent a lot of time planning this weekend for you. So, we request that once you register at camp you do not leave the camp grounds for any reason outside of our camp programming, except for emergencies, unless arrangements have been made with one of the camp directors prior to the beginning of camp.

Our programming will be finished after dinner on Sunday evening.

I understand these expectations and am willing to abide by them as a registered participant in this camp.

Please contact the camp directors, Katy Palmer or Della Stanley-Green if you have questions or concerns about these expectations.

WHAT TO BRING..

IN CASE YOU'VE FORGOTTEN:

Bible, notebook, pen, sports clothing, bug repellent, sunscreen, jacket or sweatshirt, rain gear, shoes, swimsuit, towels, washcloth, soap, toothpaste, toothbrush, pillow, and sleeping bag or bedroll. We suggest: beach shoes, camera, and money for crafts, photo, and snacks. DO NOT BRING: radios, CD/MP3 players, 2-way radios, cell phones, or any other expensive electronic devices...this is a time to get away from all that stuff so leave it in your car.
